

Patrick Spangler

Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer
Healthland

Healthland is poised for significant growth in the years ahead. Leveraging this growth for long-term vitality and financial performance requires a strong and experienced leader. Someone who can help the company invest in the right strategies; conduct its affairs in a compliant and ethical manner; and adopt the disciplines of even the most highly-scrutinized, publicly-traded companies. For Healthland, that leader is Patrick Spangler.

Patrick joined the company as senior vice president and chief financial officer in August, 2012. He provides executive oversight for the finance and accounting teams, along with the administrative functions of human resources and legal. His demonstrated ability to make sound decisions, think critically and build teamwork across departments is critical as Healthland continues to enhance its financial practices.

Before joining the company, Patrick gained more than 30 years of experience in operations, financial management, public offerings, and mergers and acquisitions for start-ups and Fortune 500 companies. Most recently, he was chief financial officer for Epocrates, Inc., a $113M New Jersey company that serves more than 1 million active members (including 50% of U.S. physicians) with point-of-care digital solutions. In addition, Patrick was an operating partner at Three Fields Capital, an investment management company. In the course of his career, he served as CFO for three multi-million dollar global companies. As CFO for privately-held HighJump Software, he designed and executed two global restructurings. During his tenure at ev3, he led the company through 50% organic growth. He also served as CFO at device manufacturer Empi and held senior management positions at Medtronic and Tonka Corporation.

Patrick holds a B.S. in accounting and an M.B.T. from the University of Minnesota, and an M.B.A. from the University of Chicago. He is currently on the board of directors of Urologix, Inc. and was rated one of the top 25 Hardest Working CFO's among Minnesota's large public companies in 2007.

Patrick and his family live in Golden Valley, Minnesota.
